MIOLAD HOTELS

Brand identity & website

Edition 01 / October 2026

Small hotel. Clear offer.

CONFIRMED FOUNDATION

MIOLAD Hotels is the fixed brand name. The hotel has nine rooms. Each room is currently priced at ₦100,000 per night.

DESIGN TASK

Create a calm, distinct identity with a white background, royal blue accents and clear language. Use the supplied exterior as the visual anchor.

WHAT THE IDENTITY SHOULD DO

Make the hotel recognizable. Help guests understand the offer. Make it easy to plan dates and speak with reception.

WHAT STILL NEEDS CONFIRMATION

Location, public contacts, room facilities, guest capacity, payment and cancellation terms. No ratings, reviews or amenities are invented.

What the category teaches us.

Four positioning and design benchmarks. These are not verified direct local competitors; MIOLAD's location has not been supplied.

TERRENO	Neighbourhood-led storytelling and expressive editorial photography. Borrow the visual rhythm, not its Palma setting or amenities.
NORDIC LAGOS	A design-led identity with Scandinavian references. The lesson is consistency across type, imagery and guest-facing details.
THE WHEATBAKER	Art gives the brand a recognizable point of view. MIOLAD needs its own recurring visual language, not generic luxury claims.
THE GEORGE	A clear hierarchy for accommodation and rates. Make the offer easy to understand before asking a guest to enquire.

Design for the guest's next step.

Audience hypotheses to validate with actual enquiries and booking records. They guide this design; they are not a completed guest survey.

NAME

Keep MIOLAD Hotels. Use MIOLAD in uppercase in the wordmark; use MIOLAD Hotels in ordinary writing. No invented name origin.

TAGLINE

Settle in.

Use as an invitation on a hero, welcome card or campaign. Do not repeat it beside every logo.

PROPOSED BRAND STORY

MIOLAD begins with a simple idea: arriving at a hotel should feel straightforward. With nine rooms and a clear nightly rate, the brand is built around hospitality on a smaller scale. Its white-and-blue identity gives that idea a calm, confident expression, from the first enquiry to the final goodbye.

Brand narrative, not a claim about founder history.

The building sets the tone.

WHITE SPACE

Room to breathe.

ROYAL BLUE

One confident accent.

EDITORIAL TYPE

Character and clarity.

RECOMMENDED BALANCE

About 75% white, 15% photography, 10% blue and ink. Blue is the accent, not a tinted page background.

ACCESSIBLE PAIRINGS

Blue / white: 8.2:1. Ink / white: 16.0:1. Use these for normal text. Mist is a quiet supporting fill.

Digital values are authoritative. Print from a colour-managed proof; do not guess a Pantone match.

Character, without clutter.

Cormorant Garamond

Manrope

A soft editorial serif for short headlines. A clear sans serif for navigation, body text, rates and practical details.

SAY

“Plan your stay.”

“₦100,000 per room, per night.”

AVOID

Unsupported luxury claims, invented amenities, fake reviews, long welcome slogans and repetitive interface labels.

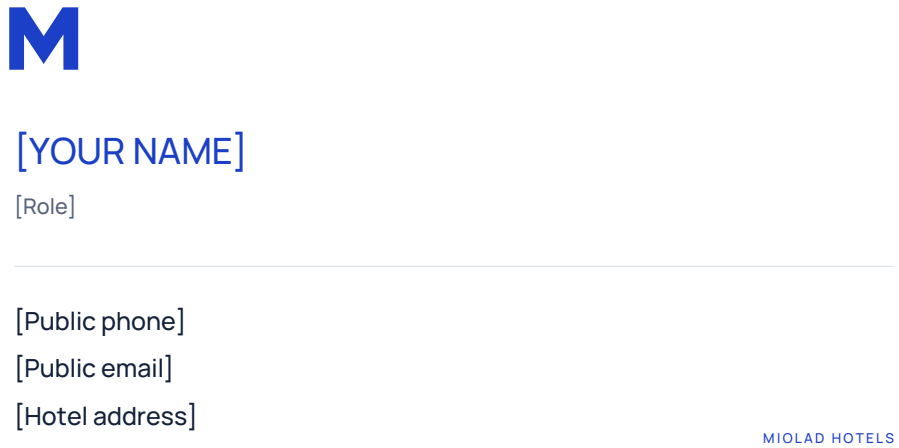

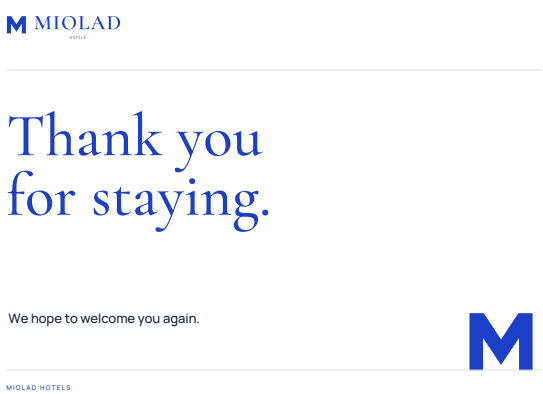

Use the supplied exterior at full width or as an intentional detail crop. Do not present crops as different rooms or invent interior photography.

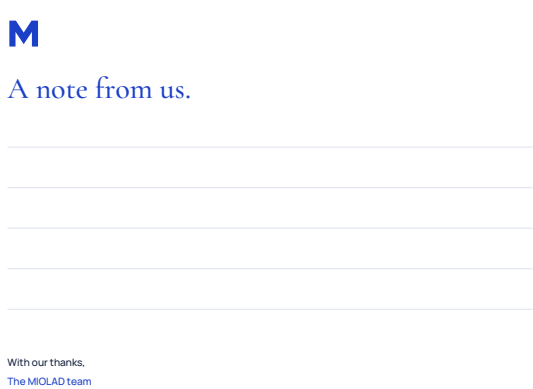

Capture real room photography before adding room galleries.

A thoughtful hand-off.

The small details.

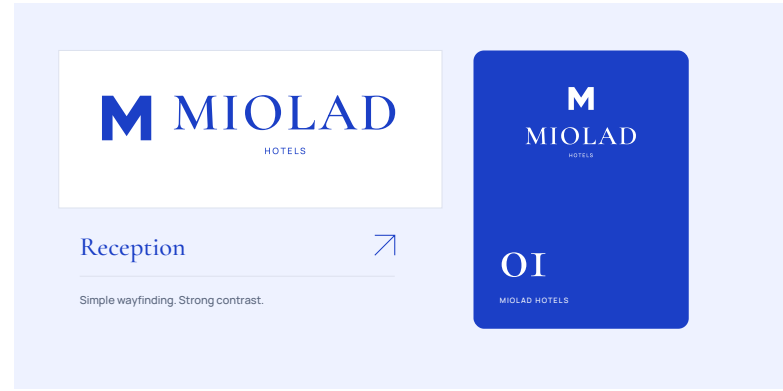

STATIONERY / APPLICATION STUDY

Thank-you card + business card. Editable artwork supplied separately.

A clear welcome.

SIGNAGE + KEY CARD / APPLICATION STUDY

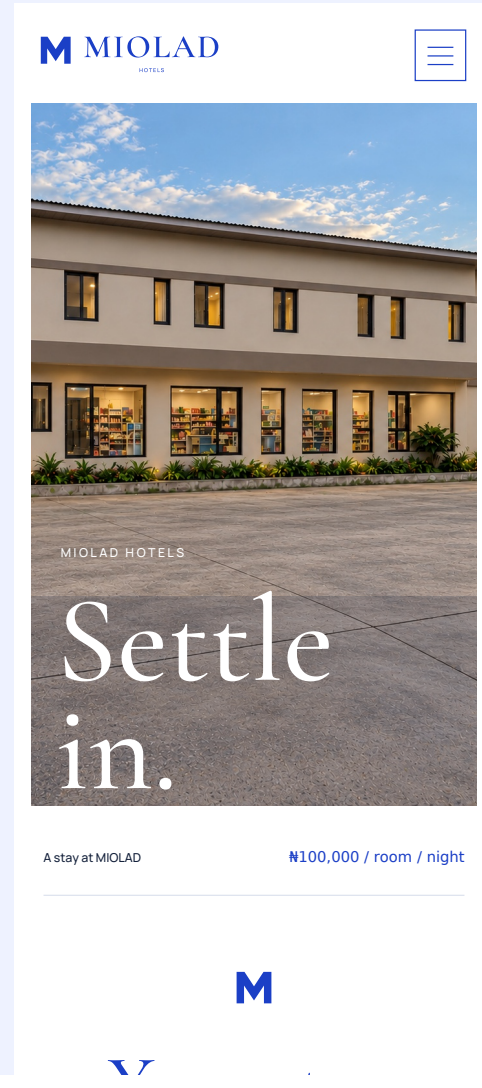

Concept applications only. These do not claim existing hotel signage or key-card access.

Two application studies connect the identity across stationery, a reception sign and a key card.

White, blue, and room to breathe.

Full desktop and mobile boards are in designs/. The runnable website is in website/.

Useful by design.

THE GUEST FLOW

CONNECT RECEPTION

Add the approved public WhatsApp number or email in website/contact.js. The planner then prepares an enquiry in that service. It does not confirm a reservation.

Responsive layouts, a mobile menu, keyboard-friendly dialogs, photo viewing, a room estimate, downloadable stay details and reduced-motion support.

PRIVACY & SCOPE

No tracking cookies or analytics. No public access to the receptionist database. No invented contact details. Desktop software remains a separate, authenticated application.

Rates and available rooms remain subject to confirmation by reception.

Ready to use. Easy to extend.

ASSET HAND-OFF

SVG keeps artwork editable; PNG is ready to place. Print PDFs contain bleed and trim boxes. Install the included fonts before editing SVG text. Brand-book pages are also supplied as SVG.

FIGMA STATUS

The native logo family, colour variables, type styles and hotel image were created in Figma. The Starter tool quota then blocked further edits. Collateral, website boards and book pages were completed as editable SVGs outside Figma.

BEFORE PUBLISHING

Add approved public contacts, verify the hotel facts and replace bracketed template copy.
